The way of it was this:
Sambo said Matilda Jane was bound to wear
he smallest shoe in Memphis.
She was jest bound to do it.
Levett was not to be out down by Sambo.
Sambo might elect Judges and run the Govrament, but he couldn't run off Levett.
So levett had that small shoe made.
There it is. There it is.
Mailids Jane couldn't guite get it on.

Mysterious Affair-The Funeral in this City Yesterday.

The remains of Gen. R. V. Richardson, of this city, arrived yesterday morning, and the funeral took place in the afternoon at Elmwood, from Holst's, on Main street. He was shot at Clarkson, a small town in Dunklin county, Missouri, last Wednesday night. The dedrink of water, and stepped outside of service and from the order requiring the the door to a pail of water on the porch, taking of said odions oaths. Responand was instantly shot and killed by and was instantly shot and killed by said papers acted upon the destrine of some one who fired a shot-gun loaded the Government of Great Britain, which with buck-shot, who was concealed behind a wagon in the yard. No cause was or is known for the diabolical deed. Gen. Richardson was a lawyer by profession. During the war he raised a brigade and joined Forrest's command. He was not known to have a mortal enemy in the world. His family is in Hardiman county. His son started for Missouri yesterday to investigate the cause of the terrible mystery.

Response of the Mayor Elect.

In response to Mr. John Donovan's bill of injunction served yesterday to restrain Mr. John Johnson from entering the office of Mayor, Mr. Johnson denies that he is ineligible and cannot take the seat. In answer to special interrogatories

First-In answer to the first specific interrogatory, respondent says that he was been in the county of Antrim, in Irrwas bern in the county of Antrim, in Irland, on the 5th day of September, 1826, Second—In answer to the second specific interrogatory, he says that he emigrated to the United States, with his father, in July, 1838, when he was nearly twelve years of age. He first landed at Montreal, in Canada, and proceeded from thence to the city of Pittsburg, in Pennsylvania, in July, 1838, and from thence he went with his father to Columbiana county, in the State of Ohio, where he resided until 1847, when, in the autumn resided until 1847, when, in the autumo of that year, he removed to the city of Memphis, where he has since continu-ously resided.

Third—In answer to the third specific interrogatory, he answers that his father was a native of Ireland; that he did emigrate to the United States in July, 1838, at the time and in the manner stated in the foregoing answer, bringing with him this respondent as before stated. Re-spondent's father, Thomas Johnson, did become a naturalized citizen of the said United States on the 2d of September, 1843, as will appear by the certificate of the Court of Common Pleas of the county of Columbiana, and State of Ohio, herewith filed as exhibit "A" to this answer. Fourth-In answer to the fourth specific interrogatory, respondent says that he has become a naturalized citizen of the United States by force and virtue of the 4th section of the act of Congress of 1802 (passed 14th of April, 1802), which provides, among other things, "that the children of persons duly naturalized under any of the laws of the United States, being under the age of twenty-one years at the time of their parents being so nat-uralized, shall, if dwelling in the United States, be considered as citizens of the United States, and by virtue of other statutes and laws of the United States." Respondent says that his father was a free white man, who was naturalized at the time and place above stated, when the respondent was about seventeen years of age, and when the respondent was dwelling with his father in the United States, and by this means be became by the express provisions of law a natural-ised citizen of the United States, and entitled to all the rights and privileges of the city. The mot citizenship without any act on his part Chair and carried. whatever. Respondent having become a citizen in the manner above stated, has not, of course, any written evidence of such citizenship.

Fifth-In answer to the fifth specific interrogatory, respondent says that do ring the late civil war his sympathies and interests were all enlisted on behalf of the Southern people, with whom he had resided for many years and to whom he was sincerely attached by many sacred ties and memories, and when the city of Memphis was invaded and captured by appeared beneath the mud which runs out the United States military forces on the of Brinkley avenue. If the pavement is 6th of June, 1862, he felt compelled to remain at his home in Memphis, and not remain at his home in Memphis, and not to go into the Southern lines, but he re-Rev. He stringent, pledging allegiance to the United States, renouncing all allegiance and sympathy to and for the Confederate States, and were in very many respeats very obnoxious to the people of the South who sympathized with the Confederate cause. The respondent, under these circumstances, being unable to leave Memphis, and feeling a just and unconquerable repugaance to the taking of said oaths and to enlisting in any military force which was arrayed against the Southern armies, he, after due consideration and with much reluctance, instead of swearing falsely in com plying with said military orders, made an affidavit before Hume made an affidavit before Hume F. Hill, a United States Commis-sioner, on 29th May, 1863, (a true copy of which is filed as exhibit B to this answer), upon which, after many delays and by ceased was traveling in the interest of a cutside influences, he procured from the projected railroad. He was staying for Consul of Great Britain, then residing the night at a tavere. About ten o'clock at St. Louis, papers protecting him as a subject of Great Britain, with which he at night he remarked that he wanted a sought to exempt himself from military dent states that the Counsul who issued holds its citizens to perpetual allegiance, and adopts the maxim, "once a citizen always a citizen," and on this account and by other influences these papers were granted without requiring the usual prerequisites in such cases. Respondent files the exhibit "B" as the evidence apon which he procured said papers, and states that the papers thus obtained have been lost or mislaid so that he cannot find the same. He further says that while this act may not be sus ceptible of being justified upon moral grounds, yet he claims that the statements made in said affidavit are true in substance, and his conscience is satisfied with the reflection that if by this act he was guilty of any moral wrong (which he does not admit), his alternative under the circumstances of duress with which he was surrounded, would have been infinitely worse in a moral point of view. Respondent is advised, and insists that before the 29th of May, 1263, he was a citizen of the United States, and that this act did not affect his rights as a citizen, and that no act of his under the circumstances while he remained within the United States could by any means affect his rights as a citizen.

Respondent's offense has this extent and no more, and while he confesses the same in this solemn manner, he adopts the language of him "who spoke as never man spake," let him that is without sin in this cause cast the first stone at him.
And having fully answered, respondent prays that the injunction heretofore granted in this cause be dissolved, and be dismissed with costs, etc.

I hereby announce myself as an independent candidate for re-election to the office of Sheriff of Shelby County at the ensuing March election.

GOVERN-THE NEW CITY MENT.

T. B Norment Elected Chairman of the Board of Aldermen, and George Dixon Chairman of the Common Council.

The old Board of Mayor and Aldermen met yesterday afternoon to install the new city government. An unusual throng of people assembled to witness the inauguration. The City Hall and adjacent offices were filled long before four o'clock. Office-seekers in small quantities, say a ton to the square yard, were on hand. The old Board were all present except Aldermen Glancey, Renner, Wolcott, Ogden and Vincent. Chairman Swayne presided. The roll of the new Board of Allermen was called, and they all came forward to the Speaker's desk, when Mayor Leftwich administered the usual cath. The Councilmen were next sworn in likewise.

On motion of the immortal James Gallagher, whom we call Alderman for the last time, doubtless, the old Board adjourned sine die.

The Councilmen took their places. On the first ballot taken George Dixon received twelve votes and John Hallum seven votes for Chairman of the Council. Mr. Dixon was declared elected, and took his seat accordingly.

One of the first acts of the Board was to appoint a committee of four-Hallum, James, Pepper and Prescott-to confer with a similar committee of Aldermen. and report on salaries for officers during the present term.

Mesers. Graves, Parker, Chase and Glancey were appointed on bonds of officery.

On motion of Councilman Dancan, a committee of three-Duncan, Twohig and Cohen-was appointed to procure a certified copy of the City Charter from the Secretary of State, and it was resolved to have 500 copies printed for the use of the Board and of the citizens.

Councilman Hallum moved that the Comptroller and Register prepare for the use of the Board a tabular statement showing the amount of taxes collected and disbursed for the last ten years in the city. The motion was put by the Alderman Prescott moved that in the absence of a regularly elected city prin ter, the Register be instructed to farnish a copy of the proceedings of the Board to each of the morning papers. Adopted-

From the Louisville Commercial. A large, fashionable and appreciative audience greeted the second per of this troupe at Weisiger Hall last night. Mozart's great master-piece, The Magic Flute, was performed our expectations were not only fully realized, but far surpassed. The performance last night was all and more than could be expected. The orchestra has, with the great musical talent of Mr. Van Ghel, besu reinforced, and under his careful training perfectly electrified the audience, which was shown by the overiore, which was not only acceptably but very creditably rendered. Of the soloists we have but one opinion They were all very good, and each of the many difficult parts of the opera was very well rendered. Mr. Habelman, as meno," was splendid. His great and beautful voice has the same metal and more strength than in former days. He re-established himself at once in the hearts of all his hearers. Madame Frederici surpassed herself in the melodious atrains of Pamens's role. We regretted that the principal solo in the finale was omitted by her. In Miss Jackson we were made acquainted with a young artists of superior quality. Her voice is pure, and for one so new to the opera, is unusually fine, Madame Dziuba sang the part of Papa gens with great elegance. Mr. Formes also sacg well, but might have omitted his "side speeches." Mr. Wesalich's "Sarastro" was superb, and in his great basso solos be was the recipient of long-continued and deserved applause. The choruses, esserved applause. The choruses, especially in the third act, were very fine.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Daffield, who was kind enough to transfer some of his best musicians to strengthen the oropera season, Mr. Grau is enabled to give his operas with the necessary instru-mental accompaniment, which was not the case at the first.
